

Indiana's phone privacy law has made a huge difference in the quality of our at-home time - we can answer the phone without worrying that it's some telemarketer who claims that we were once a customer. We do not wish to see any Federal regulation that would limit the effectiveness of Indiana's law. We do not want any solicitor to be allowed to invade our privacy.